

Katori Nation

Dad/Kid Adventures

The Katori Nation Adventure Guides and Princesses Program is designed to foster companionship and understanding between fathers and their children in a wholesome atmosphere that emphasizes fun and adventure.

The Katori Nation adventure programs are open to fathers and their children, starting as young as kindergarten. Group participants attend various fun activities around the community and lots of campouts. Some of the camping is done in tents at fun campgrounds and state parks, while other campouts involve weekend stays at “summer camp” facilities.

This program stands out from others because all dads take part in the activities with their children. Parents are not sending their kids out with one or two group leaders. Instead, our program provides a safe and adventurous environment where fathers have quality bonding time with their children, as well as a chance for everyone to make some new friends. In other words,

We make it fun and easy for dads to take their young kids camping.

Please check out our website below, and drop us a line with any questions.

www.katorination.com

Dads:
Take your kids camping!

Moms:
Get the weekend off!